If you invested $10,000 in BOT, here is what you would own [pointing-down emoji]

RoboStrategy is a closed-end fund on Nasdaq under the ticker BOT, holding 17 private robotics companies you can access through a brokerage account.

The fund raises capital by issuing new shares, then invests it in new and existing portfolio companies

Here are some of the top holdings [down-arrow emoji]

Standard Bots (31.3%) builds AI-native robotic arms that automate factory production

Dyna Robotics (14.9%) builds the AI models that help robots learn general-purpose tasks

Apptronik (14.2%) builds humanoid robots, with a strategic Google partnership on embodied AI

Figure AI (13.8%) builds full-stack humanoids, designing both the robot and its AI

Dexmate (9.1%) builds mobile robots that move and handle objects, like its VEGA humanoid

Maven Robotics (9.0%) builds AI robots for logistics and manufacturing
